synvert xgeeks at KCD Porto 2026

Branding and Booth Plan | Internal team briefing

19 + 20 Nov 2026

Super Bock Arena / Palacio de Cristal

Two communities
One landmark event

All eyes will be on us

We created, run and shape Iberia's most relevant Cloud Native + DevOps event

- 2026 is the landmark edition: KCD Porto joins forces with DevOps Days Portugal, with synvert xgeeks as the legal entity behind both
- Our name is on everything: we are the organizer, the host and the biggest sponsor in the room
- The venue works for us: the sponsor foyer is a mandatory passage area, so visibility is guaranteed
- This deck is the plan for how we show up: booth, venue branding and the CTO's Dinner

500+

Expected attendees

Two days, two communities

150+

Companies represented

CTOs, platform engineers, architects

50+

Speakers

4+ international keynotes

20+

Sponsors expected

We are the host of all of them

Everyone coming from GL, Hitachi and Synvert has to walk in and feel that this conference is effectively ours.

Three objectives, three pillars

What we want from the event, and how we will get it

Brand exposure

synvert xgeeks visible in every corner of the venue, on stage, on screens and around every neck

Business development

Qualified conversations with decision-makers from 150+ companies, hosted on our home turf

Hiring

Where relevant: 500+ engineers and architects seeing us as the employer of choice in Cloud Native

01

The Booth

Our stand sits at the entrance of the venue. Bigger, sharper, rebranded, and impossible to miss.

02

Branding across the venue

Rooms, lounge, wifi, lanyards, coffee, water. Every unsold sponsor asset becomes ours.

03

CTO's Dinner

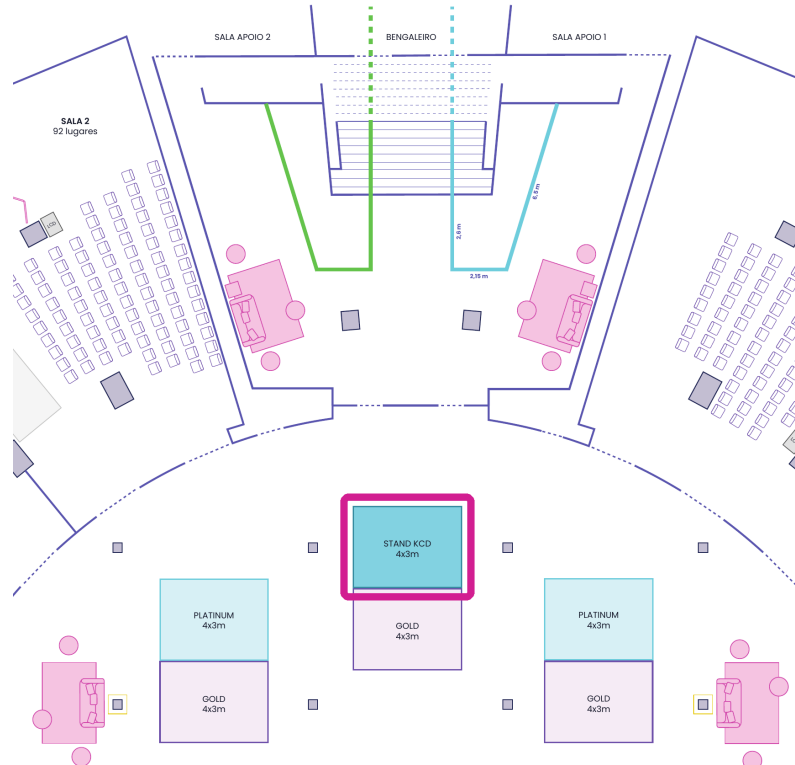

The official welcome dinner on day one, sponsored by synvert xgeeks.

Our stage: Super Bock Arena / Palacio de Cristal, Porto

Our spot is the entrance door

Official venue plan, Piso -1. Highlighted: Stand KCD, 4x3m.

- Attendees enter through the stairs and cloakroom area and land directly in front of our stand
- It is the first and last thing every single attendee sees, on both days
- The foyer around it is a mandatory passage to the auditorium and side rooms
- Platinum and Gold sponsors sit behind and beside us. We hold the best position in the venue

This spot is practically the entrance door.
It is the ticket in.

Reuse smart, rebrand cheap

Last year's booth is a strong base. We update it instead of buying everything new

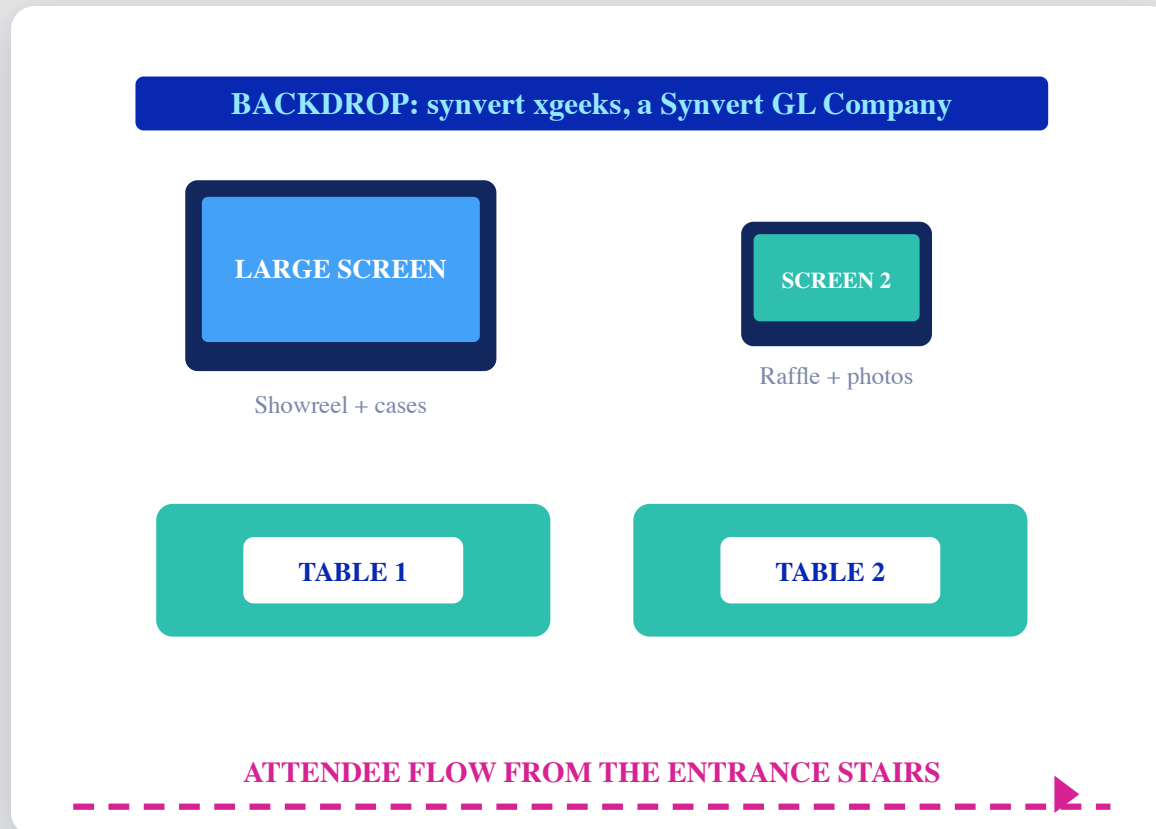

Our booth at KCD Porto 2025

- 1. Reuse the backdrop. We print a cover strip over the part that says "synvert" and place the new identity there: synvert xgeeks, a Synvert GL Company
- 2. New TV frame. Make it new and cheaper, with the new logo and design
- 3. New table front panel. Same approach: new print, new design, low cost
- Everything else (table, TV, hardware) we already own

Principle: spend on presence and dynamics, not on rebuying structures that still work.

Front row deserves real presence

The entry point booth needs to be bigger than last year

Working sketch, to refine with the venue

- Two tables instead of one: more surface for demos, merch and conversations without blocking flow
- Possibly two screens: one large and one small, running different content at the same time
- Large screen: showreel, client stories, hiring. Small screen: raffle, photo wall, games
- Goal: a booth that reads as the host's booth, not one more sponsor stand

Open with the venue: confirm the exact footprint we can take at the entrance position.

Booth dynamics: give people a reason to stop

Traffic is guaranteed by the location. Engagement is up to us

Instax corner

Instant camera with a branded xgeeks photo frame. We post the photos on our social channels and tag the people in them, so they reshare and amplify us to their own networks.

Games for giveaways

Quick games at the booth with merch as prizes. Last year's raffle worked. This year we can go bigger: a wheel of fortune, a leaderboard challenge, or a claw-style pick.

Merch and giveaways

Tiered swag: cheap high-volume items for everyone, plus a few desirable prizes that make people play and stay.

Open questions for the team

- What budget do we have for merch and giveaways?
- Can we run a wheel of fortune, a game, or something similar? Who builds and runs it?

Every unsold asset becomes ours

The principle: any branding asset we planned to sell to sponsors and do not sell, synvert xgeeks uses

Side room naming

A parallel sessions room carries our name on the agenda, the signage and every session announcement.

Lounge naming

The chill-out area on Piso 0 becomes the xgeeks Lounge. Details on the next slide.

Wifi network

Network name and password are ours, announced at the opening session and displayed across the venue.

Lanyards

Our logo around every neck, in every hallway conversation and every photo, for two full days.

Barista and coffee

A barista serves coffee all day, every day. If no sponsor closes it, xgeeks sponsors it.

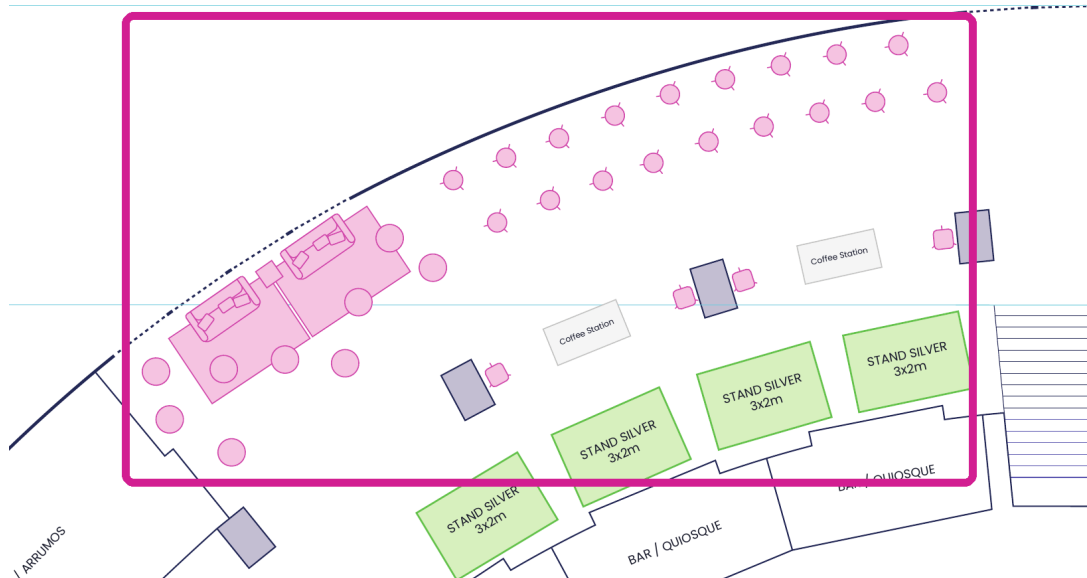

Sponsor room + water

The foyer entrance sign and the water bottles both carry synvert xgeeks if unsold.

Decision point: on the sponsor sales deadline, we claim whatever is left. No asset goes unbranded.

The xgeeks Lounge

Piso 0, the pink area with the poufs, where everyone goes to breathe between sessions

Official venue plan, Piso 0. Highlighted: the lounge area with sofas and poufs.

- There will be no plaque with the room name. If we want the name to exist, we create the visual asset ourselves
- Options to spread the name around:

Freestanding totem

"xgeeks Lounge" at the area entrance

Hanging banner

Visible along the curved concourse

Rollups

One at each end of the lounge

Branded cushions

Logo on the poufs people sit on

Suggestion: totem at the entrance + branded cushions. One anchors the name, the other lands in every photo.

The assets everyone touches

Wifi, lanyards and a room with our name on it

WIFI

synvert-xgeeks

password

wegrowcloudnative

- Announced at the opening session and displayed across the whole venue. Everyone types our name on day one

LANYARDS

synvert xgeeks
around every neck

- 500+ attendees wear our logo for two days. It appears in every photo, post and video from the event

SIDE ROOM

The synvert xgeeks Room on the agenda, the app and the door

- Every parallel session in that room is announced with our name, both days

Coffee, the busiest spot in any conference

A barista serves coffee all day, every day. If no sponsor closes it, xgeeks sponsors it

COFFEE CORNER

xpresso yourself.

Coffee sponsored by synvert xgeeks

a Synvert GL Company

- The barista corner has a constant queue: highest dwell time anywhere in the venue
- Package includes a rollup at the coffee point and branding on the table
- We make the rollup memorable with a good pun. Options:

xpresso yourself.

short, ours, on brand

Kubernetes runs on containers. Geeks run on coffee.

High availability espresso. Zero downtime.

Great coffee, like great platforms, needs a solid pipeline.

The sponsor room carries our name

The foyer is a mandatory passage area. We put our name on its door

SPONSOR ROOM
BROUGHT TO YOU BY
SYNVERT XGEEKS

Sign placed at the foyer entrance

- Every attendee crosses the foyer to reach the auditorium and side rooms
- All 20+ sponsors exhibit inside a room that is brought to them by us

💧 Water bottles

If the water sponsorship stays unsold, the bottles keep the conference design and add one line: sponsored by synvert xgeeks. Hydration with our name on it, in everyone's hand and every session photo.

CTO's Dinner, sponsored by synvert xgeeks

Day one, before the conference starts: the official welcome dinner on the agenda

- The highest-value people in one room before the doors even open: CTOs, VPs and decision-makers
- It sits on the official agenda as the welcome dinner of the conference, with our name attached
- As hosts, we set the table: guest list, seating and warm introductions are ours to design
- For GL, Hitachi and Synvert stakeholders it is the clearest proof that this event is ours

20-30

Qualified leads

Target from the whole event

2+

Upsell conversations

Target clients at the event

Why a dinner works

Relaxed setting, no booth noise, no competing talks. Just the organizers of the event breaking bread with the people they most want to talk to.

Business development and stakeholder trust, closed over dinner before day one begins.

Open decisions and next steps

What the team needs to close, and who owns each piece

Decision	Next step	Owner
Booth size and layout	Confirm footprint with the venue: two tables, one or two screens	TBD
Print new vs reuse	Quote the cover strip, TV frame and table front panel with the new design	TBD
Giveaway budget	Set the amount, then choose: wheel of fortune, game, or raffle	TBD
Unsold assets we claim	Track sponsor sales; claim lounge, wifi, lanyards, barista, foyer, water at the deadline	TBD
Booth dynamics	Instax flow: who shoots, who posts, who tags	TBD
CTO's Dinner	Venue, budget, guest list and agenda slot	TBD

All eyes on us. Let's make it ours.
